

creative coast february–july 2007

creative coast

the north yorkshire coast
creative industries network

5.30 for 6.00
upstairs at the merchant
eastborough
scarborough ny

21.02 widening the net.

Hauling in work from outside the Borough. Steve Bromham, Director of Save9, and Simon Bull, Director of Castle Group Ltd, run two successful Scarborough-based businesses with a nation-wide clientele. They share ideas and experiences of how they built up their customer base.

21.03 creativity swap shop.

A chance to exchange your creative skills with others. This is the evening when a painting might buy a website or an hour's guitar tuition could be swapped for a business card design. You get what you want by offering what you can do.

18.04 what am i worth?

Suggestions for how to value and put a price on your time, skills and products. Find out how to pitch the right rate for the right customer.

16.05 reeling them in.

Shirlie Stone, Marketing Officer for Scarborough Museums and Gallery, will draw from her wide experience of the commercial and public sectors to look at how to get your work noticed by the customers you really want.

20.06 the five minute pitch.

You're stood up in front of your peers, the clock starts ticking, this is your chance to show what you're really made of... Or maybe you want to be in the audience, sussing out the competition. Just how good are the creatives on the North Yorkshire Coast?

To book your pitch spot see www.creativecoast.net

18.07 an artists survival guide.

Wendy Clews, Director of Create Arts and Cultural Development Agency, gives the essential advice all artists - visual, literary, musical - need to get underway and then stay afloat.

are you...

working in the creative or digital sector?

creative coast network offers you:

opportunity:

- for new business

- to trade skills

- to meet others in your field

support, advice, ideas, encouragement & motivation.

be part of the fastest developing sector in north yorkshire. as it matures see your potential grow.

join for free at [www.
creativecoast
.net](http://www.creativecoast.net)

Science City York

CREATE

february—july 2007 series of events part sponsored by science city york. www.sciencecityyork.com creative coast is assisted by create arts and cultural development: www.create.uk.net and electric angel design, scarborough:

www.electricangel.co.uk

an electric angel design.

words by kate evans: www.writingourselveswell.co.uk

creative coast

the north yorkshire coast
creative industries network